Cheap Transportation.
Cryptesthesia Saves Woman.
Flight, Mr. Singh.
Bess Murphy Will Learn.

The air giant ZR-1, bigger than the biggest steamship, uses less than a gallon of gasoline per mile in her flight of 2,500 miles. A big ocean steamer would need two tons of coal to one gallon of gas for a giant flyer. That shows the difference in power needed to push ashore light air and heavy water and it tells you how cheaply man will travel in years to come if they get rid of that "all the traffic will bear" slogan. It is quite probable that in future one day's work will earn the actual cost of a flight around the world.

Professor Hiebet of the French Academy of Medicine says woman possesses a faculty called "Cryptesthesia." That's a scientific name for intuition, woman's strange power to judge character at a glance, her ability instantly to tell truth from falsehood.

"Cryptesthesia" is older than the French Academy of Medicine, older than the pyramids. Women practiced that faculty a hundred thousand years ago, when their husbands came wandering in late from the cave across the valley. It's their one safeguard.

A baby kangaroo born in the Chicago Zoo is an inch long, about as wide as a lead pencil, and weighed nine grains. Once born, it climbs into its mother's pouch and stays there seven months, while its hind legs grow strong.

A giant grizzly bear has a baby smaller than a kitten. Nature is hard on women. But science will fix that one of these days.

St. Nihal Singh, one of 300,000,000 Asiatics ruled in India by a few Englishmen thousands of miles away, has a grievance. When family members of the British Empire meet, Canada, Australia and other colonies of European stock are represented by elected delegates. India's vast crowd is represented by men selected by Englishmen.

As usual, the trouble is within. It's the same if you lack love in yourself—some outside force will rule you. Among the 300,000,000 Asiatics of India there dwell 100,000 Englishmen and they rule the 300,000,000, although they are outnumbered 3,000 to one. Could Mr. Singh imagine one Englishman keeping down 3,000 Indians? In these days you only get justice when you fight for it. Even then it is slow.

In five thousand years, India has written millions of different books. And in all this so-called "liberty" the trouble with India, some day a man will come along, not a Gandhi, trying to fight Manchester with a spinning wheel. Let some person of mixed race with thick hairy wrists, coarse hands, short stubby fingers, hell let India elect her delegates to the British Empire's family reunion.

William Pastore is in jail for throwing a cat out of the window, and the Supreme Court says it is unconstitutional to pass a law that would prevent driving thousands of young children into mills and factories. Write that on your tablets. We can protect cats, not children.

Charles F. Murphy, who demands a wet plank in the Democratic platform for 1924, "was firing a shot at McAdoo's ambition," according to political reporters. McAdoo will welcome such shooting. Before 1924 ends each candidate will be trying to prove himself drier than the others.

Mr. Emmons, president of the Electric Railway Association, says public ownership means Socialist government and an end of a prosperous, sane nation.

Mr. Emmons is unnecessarily worried. What about the post office? That's government ownership, and quite successful. Nobody imagines that any private company would carry a letter from Miami to Seattle for two cents.

What about the Panama Canal? That's government ownership and government construction also. Quite successful after private effort failed.

It may be that Americans don't elect officials honest or capable enough to manage public owned monopolies. But they may do it some day.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Today, the usual annual Thanksgiving union services of all the Protestant churches in St. Cloud, will be held in the U. A. R. Hall at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Rev. B. Atchison, pastor of the Baptist church will preach the sermon, and every person in the city is urged to be present and offer their thanks to the Giver of all Good Gifts for their blessings during the year just coming to a close.

Special musical numbers will make up the devotional service in connection with this union Thanksgiving service this year.

NARCOOSSEE CITRUS FRUIT TAKES FIRST PRIZE AT THE FLORIDA STATE FAIR

NARCOOSSEE, Fla., Nov. 28.—Those who have made a close study of the citrus industry in Florida can tell that the fruit grown at Narcoossee is superior to that produced anywhere else, and that contention was verified last week when fruit grown at this place was awarded first prize at the Florida State Fair held at Jacksonville. This is not the first time by many that Narcoossee citrus fruit has been awarded first honor in competition with that grown at other places in the state, and at no fair or exposition at which an exhibit has been made has it ever received less than second prize and in most cases first. This is accounted for by the fact that soil here is peculiarly adapted to the growing of citrus fruit, being what is known as high oak hammock, underlaid with a rich yellow loam. This character of soil requires much less fertilizer than high sandy ridges, and has the strength to hold the fruit on the trees, which accounts for the enormous yield, many trees producing from twenty to twenty-five boxes, and two tangerine trees here in the Phillips grove have been known to produce eighty-four straps.

Recently many owners of groves in different sections of Florida have come here looking over the situation, and the majority have expressed the opinion that it was more profitable to grow citrus fruits here than at any other place within their knowledge, as the soil was ideal, the price cheap, and the yield heavy, as well as there being fewer insects to contend with.

Presbyterian Church. We surely had a glorious time at our Sabbath school last Sunday. We had a fine attendance and a great interest was shown in every class. Our pastor, Rev. B. Atchison, as teacher of the "Brotherhood" class that Mr. Smith might have an opportunity of visiting the different classes in the school. It was the first time Rev. Smith has had such an opportunity since he became our superintendent. He was well pleased in the way the teachers were conducting their classes.

Now, folks, come out next Sunday to our Sabbath school. It begins at 9:30 A. M. You will like it. We need you and perhaps you need us. The preaching service was well attended. Just lots of our tourist friends are back and we certainly welcome them to our church. Our pastor gave us a wonderful sermon. Come out next Sunday and help share in the good things at the church. Remember the time of the preaching service is 10:45 A. M.

Last Sunday evening we enjoyed a stereopticon lecture. The house was full. We hope to have these lectures often as the people seem to enjoy them. We hope to see our church full next Sunday evening.

The Christian Endeavor society have their service following the evening preaching service at 7:30. Last Sunday we had a good meeting. Last Sunday I believe every member lined up to the C. E. pledge where it says "I will take some part aside from singing in every C. E. prayer meeting that I attend. It was certainly a great meeting. We hope to see a large number out to C. E. next Sunday evening. We have something special in the way of an illustrated song by one of our C. E. girls. We will also have several special music attractions. Lots of good friends singing. Come out and you will see that we have a free C. E. Society. The subject for next Sunday evening is lessons from the Psalms. The text is the 49 Psalm 1-10 verses. The leaders will be Mrs. Wm. Ide and Henrietta Hodge. If you will come out we will promise you a good time. Remember the time 7:30 just following the preaching service.

Every one is welcome to every meeting.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL COMES TO CLOSE TODAY WITH WORK IN ST. CLOUD WELL DONE.

Today—Thanksgiving Day, 1923—marks the end of the annual Red Cross roll call drive for new members, which was started and in fact practically completed on Armistice Day, November 11. On the first day a one-hour drive had been planned and was carried out in order to make St. Cloud's quota of new members for this year—500 new and renewals having been allotted to St. Cloud, but due to the fact the Armistice Day was on Sunday and Monday was to be observed as the real holiday, many persons had left home for the week-end on Saturday, and the first day drive did not come up to what was reported as last year's results. Last year, hence all district workers were asked to visit all places where persons were not at home on the first call, and many new members have been enrolled since Armistice Day.

Next Monday will be the regular annual meeting of the St. Cloud Chapter, American Red Cross, and at that time the selection of a chairman, a vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer will take place, the roll call of new members secured this year constituting the voters that will select the new officials.

St. Cloud bears a distinction that but few towns of its size can boast, that of having a regular resident Red Cross nurse, who looks after all work in the public schools and in the homes as well, and much has been accomplished during the past year under this plan adopted by the local chapter.

Organization of the different parts of Red Cross work in St. Cloud has been perfected in the past few months in a more thorough manner than ever before, and many favorable comments have been heard on what is being accomplished.

It has been ascertained by experience of the local chapter that to secure the best results every different part of Red Cross home service and home-nursing work as well as that of school and home hygiene should have the personal supervision of some capable person, and during the time in the past twelve months that the local chapter has been very active, many lessons have been learned as to what is needed here and steps taken to provide these things.

With the work so well organized in the past year, and results obtained locally that have been favorably commented upon throughout the Southern Division, the only thing that remains for the future of the work, is the completion of the renewal memberships and the selection of the local chapter at the meeting to be held next Monday of officers to conduct the work for another twelve months.

When people learn that the real every-day work of the Red Cross is home work and home service, and that only when some terrible world disaster occurs is outside aid given or expected they readily see that the work is continued. A live local chapter can make their organization work so thorough that when outside aid is needed (like the Japanese disaster when St. Cloud was asked for and wired $100 without asking for a local drive in that case) the local chapter is prepared to do its share.

St. Cloud has been very fortunate in being first in all things and thorough in all work for humanity, and the closing year of successful work finds the officers selected last December very grateful to the loyalty of the members and workers in making the year's work a success.

The names of all new members enrolled on Armistice Day are given herewith, as they have been reported to the secretary from the division workers, up to and including last night, November 29. If any omissions have been made the matter should be reported at the annual chapter meeting to be held next Monday. Here is the list as they have been turned in:

ST. CLOUD POSTOFFICE TO BE FILLED BY EXAMINATION.

The Tribune is in receipt of a circular from the Civil Service Commission, asking that we make it known that appointment of a postmaster for St. Cloud is to be made in February, 1924, examination to be held on form 2241. The circular states that the commission will not determine finally who is eligible, this system being used only to select the three that make the highest averages on examination as possible nominees from which the President will name a candidate for approval by the United States Senate. In other words, while the Civil Service examination is used in this class of postoffice, the President is not bound by their findings.

Thanks, according to the circular, for this examination may be had by applying to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or at the local postoffice.

The commission of John J. Johnston, postmaster in St. Cloud, expires February 24, 1924, but he will continue to serve until a successor is named and fully qualified.

The salary of the local postmaster is given in the circular from Washington at $2,500 per year.

KISSIMMEE'S SCHOOL DISTRICTS JOIN HANDS.

KISSIMMEE, Nov. 26.—Reports have just come in from Special School District No. 6, as well as District No. 4, which includes Kissimmee, that the election held Friday resulted in a large majority for the consolidation of these Special Tax school districts.

With this favorable vote the necessary steps have been taken to call a bond election to provide a new high school and primary department. While the consolidation of the three districts was the primary purpose of the election, there was decided also the number of mills of district tax to be levied and collected annually for the two succeeding years for the exclusive use of public free schools. Two of the districts voting had already voted five mills.

There were also selected three school trustees for the consolidated district. The three trustees of District No. 4 were the only candidates who qualified by petition, as provided by law. The three who qualified and were elected were James Johnston, receiving the highest number of votes, Mrs. W. E. Sanderson, the next and J. L. Wagoner, the lowest.

Empty wagons make the most noise, says an Arkansas editor. Yes, and idle land grows most of the weeds and sandspurs.

THANKSGIVING.

Our gracious Lord, this day we keep
As set apart with purpose deep
To thank Thee for the harvest store
That crowns with joy our land once more.
For fruitage fair and golden grains
Now gathered from the groves and plains,
All blessings from Thy hand unseen
That we, Thy children thus might glean,
To Thee we come, to Thee we bow
And praise Thy loving kindness now;
But most of all Our Father dear
We thank Thee for the friendships here,
The hand clasp and the greeting warm
That comes as sunshine after storm.
We look into the eyes so true
And offer thanks Dear Lord to You
Who gave us these to love and hold
More precious still than lands or gold.

GALA DAY WILL MARK OPENING OF NEW TOURIST CLUB IN CITY PARK MONDAY.

NOTICE—BUSINESS MEN
Owing to the Grand Opening of the Tourists Club House Monday, it is earnestly requested that all places of business in the city close at 1:00 P. M. and remain closed for the balance of the day.

L. M. PARKER, Mayor.

Work has progressed so far to date that convalescents in charge of the building of the tourist club in the city park will be so near completed by next Monday that a gala day celebration will be held at that time.

People of St. Cloud have responded nobly to the appeals for donations of time or money, and the work on the building has gone forward so rapidly that today the roof is being completed and the flooring laid, and the plans for a gala day opening will be carried out next Monday.

All of St. Cloud and the thousands of tourists within our gates are invited to be present at the formal opening of the tourist club in the city park next Monday afternoon, after many weeks of hard work by the several local committees who have been endeavoring to have the new park equipment ready for this season.

Ready responses from hundreds of persons who have given their personal labor and others their cash, have enabled the committees to proceed so rapidly that Monday will see the big auditorium ready for the formal opening. Only a hurry-up program could be gotten together by the committee, but a good time is assured all who come out on that occasion. Here is the proposed program:

PROGRAM FOR TOURIST CLUB HOUSE OPENING.

All stores requested to close at 1 o'clock.
Fantastic Parade starts from 11th and N. Y. Ave. at 2 o'clock.
Program at Park.
Music—Pipe and Drum Corps.
Song—America.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS AT LUNCHEON TO ATTEND BUSINESS

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular session at noon Wednesday, and after partaking of a delightful luncheon prepared by the entertainment committee took up matters of importance to the welfare and advancement of the city. The attendance was fairly large at this meeting, and all members are urged to attend all the meetings and do their share in the work being undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce.

After the luncheon the business session was held with President L. M. Parker presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were approved as read. Under the reports of committees there was no report from the Membership Committee.

Chairman L. C. Zimmerman, of the advertising committee, brought up the matter of the sign directing tourists to the information bureau and asked for further instructions regarding the matter. After discussion it was decided to erect a small sign at the intersection of New York Avenue and Tenth street directing tourists to the Chamber of Commerce room and tourists registration bureau.

The condition of the Melbourne road was discussed. It was brought out by several who had recently traveled this route that the road is passable and that time, as well as wear on car, could be saved by taking this short route to the East Coast, in spite of the fact that in several cities they are directing all parties to take the long route via New Smyrna and Sanford. A committee was appointed to co-operate with a like committee from the Kissimmee and Melbourne Chamber of Commerce, to see if this source of mis-information which prevails could not be checked, and that people be advised to travel the St. Cloud-Melbourne Road.

The Park Committee report was made by Chairman S. W. Porter, who stated that within one more day's time the new park would be completed. The number of volunteer workmen since last report has been very good and they are beginning to lay the floor and all who can help in this work are urged to report at the park. Collections since last report were as follows: T. H. Summers on former pledge, $10.00; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Nale, $5.00; Mr. McPherson for two days' labor, $6.00.

Regarding the band, Mr. Porter reported that a good concert was held last Sunday and that the band was preparing a program for next Sunday. He received no collections for the support of the band since the last report and urged all those who desire to support the band to hand their INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Because less than twelve percent of the school children of the United States are receiving the benefits of physical education, the American Legion will present a definite physical education program of legislation to the next Congress, John R. Quinn, National Commander of the legion, announced today. The announcement followed a conference of representatives of leading patriotic and educational organizations in America which was called by Garland W. Powell, the legion director of Americanism.

"The American Legion has been astounded to learn how small a percentage of school children of the nation now receive the benefits of physical education," Mr. Quinn declared. "A misleading impression has resulted from the large publicity given to athletic sports and games in which only a few participate while great numbers look on and applaud. These contests do not provide training for pupils according to individual needs."

"In spite of thirty-two state laws which in greater or less degree stimulate local provisions for physical education, today not more than 12 percent of the school children of the nation are receiving this fundamental training. There is a real need for national stimulation and leadership. Without it we must face delay, ineffectiveness and waste."

"In the meantime, millions of children will grow to maturity physically handicapped and morally ill-equipped for the responsibilities of citizenship. This can only be avoided if the federal government will act promptly and effectively."

"Competent experts have testified that adequate physical education in younger years would have prevented the disqualification of more than a million recruits for national service in the recent war emergency. From the standpoint of national defense alone it seems obvious that the federal government is obligated to immediate action. But this training is equally important in preparing the youth of both sexes for the full discharge of all the duties of peace-time citizenship. Freedom for the pursuit of happiness, equality of opportunity and protection of life and property are but empty phrases for the youth who has been denied the training of body, mind and character essential to joyful and serviceable self-expression. If there should be only one way in which the federal government appropriately promote the general welfare of the citizenry, could there be anything more fundamental than to guarantee for all a preliminary training for physical fitness and moral and mental balance through physical education?"

"While the American Legion wishes to render every possible aid to this undertaking, we recognize that it is for Congress to determine the method of attacking this problem. However, it may be useful to mention a few of the conclusions reached by the American Legion as a result of its study. A nation-wide system of elementary and secondary school seems to afford the chief agency through which universal physical education may be established. Here is an investment of several billions and an annual operating expenditure of several millions. Here are taught a wide variety of subjects from reading to trigonometry. Here are buildings and grounds readily adaptable for use in providing physical education for all. Here are several hundred thousand teachers who if adequately trained could play a vital part in the direction of physical education activities. Furthermore, the schools could most effectively attract the co-operation of all competent voluntary agencies. The elementary and secondary schools, then, appear to afford the primary organization through which universal physical education may be established."

"The first step to be taken is to provide a general training in physical education for every classroom teacher so that she may carry on daily the program with occasional aid from a special education teacher. The second fundamental need is for the training and employment of a sufficient number of special teachers of physical education to supervise and aid the work of the classroom teachers. The third need is for adequate indoor and outdoor space and sufficient simple equipment."

"One obvious way in which the federal government could aid the states in the rapid, effective and economical development of this program is by making available for all the states the best up-to-date information resulting from studies, surveys and experiments."

"In addition to this technical assistance we believe it to be essential that an additional stimulus be provided by the promise of the federal government to share the expense involved in the training and employment of physical education instructors. Technical advice and assistance alone will not suffice. It brings rapidly and effectively the number reached from 12 to 100 per cent."

REMIJELI, Minn. — The colonization projects undertaken for disabled veterans in northern Minnesota will afford complete economic rehabilitation for the trainees an investigation committee from the American Legion has declared.

These projects were established under direction of the Veterans Bureau. Recent charges directed against the conduct of the projects came to the attention of the legion, and an investigation was made. William T. Kroh, legion representative of the American Legion in the Tenth District of the Veterans Bureau, who headed the investigating committee said that the Remijeli training center work deserved high commendation.

FLUSHING, L. I. — At least part of every "bonus" to be received from the State of New York by members of William A. Leonard Legion Post of this city, will be given to the Veterans' Mountain Camp at Tupper Lake, N. Y. The State in a recent referendum altered its constitution to enable payments of compensation to all residents who served in the World War. The Veterans' Mountain Camp was purchased and is maintained by legion department of New York.

BOISE, Idaho — Less than ten percent of the World War Veterans of Idaho who were given vocational training by the government have failed to profit by their training, according to Lester F. Albert, adjutant of the American Legion in Idaho and a national vice commander of the organization. Approximately 500 veterans were trained in Idaho to take new peace time occupations. But five of them were altogether unable to secure acceptable employment on the conclusion of the training period.

INDIANAPOLIS — Headquarters for American Legion service work for disabled World War veterans will soon be removed to Washington, D. C. to conform with the legion's plan of decentralization of such activities to parallel the work of the United States Veterans Bureau. The Washington office will act as a clearing house for fourteen committees which conform to the Veterans Bureau. The Legion's action was taken by direction of the fifth annual legion convention to establish closer contact with disabled veterans and to expedite claims through the bureau. The National Rehabilitation Committee of the legion, which has operated separately from the legion's headquarters service division, has been located at Washington for nearly a year.

District rehabilitation committees will be appointed at conferences of legion department (State) commanders, and each district chairman will become a member of the national committee.

INDIANAPOLIS — Citizens and not "immigrants, willing to live in old world fashion," are needed by America, according to Nellie Cassidy named local winner in the Springfield, Ohio post of the American annual essay contest.

Miss Cassidy's essay is one of those submitted to the legion in the nationwide contest on the subject "Why America Should Restrict Immigration for Five Years," sponsored by the Legion's Americanism Commission. Four hundred thousand school children participated in the contest. The winners will be announced in December, the judges passing on one essay from each state.

MAYOR PARKER HELPED START RED CROSS WORKERS.

Mayor L. M. Parker, who is also chairman of the St. Cloud Chapter American Red Cross, at the request of Division headquarters left last Wednesday for Okonobos, where he succeeded in getting the Chamber of Commerce of that little lake shore city strongly behind the Red Cross roll call and a chapter with 400 members was assured when he departed the next day for New Smyrna. At the latter place the drive had been started in a half started way and only 50 members enrolled when Mr. Parker arrived and got the business men through the Chamber of Commerce to pledge 1,000 members before their drive was completed.

On Friday Mr. Parker got the folks at Bonnell started on a drive that promises 25 per cent of their white population as new members.

At New Smyrna the enthusiasm waxed so warm that plans to have a resident nurse along the plan of St. Cloud were discussed and Mayor Parker was requested to return on December 10 when the organization meeting will be held.

port of the committee, appointed Mr. J. McPhatter together with Dr. J. D. Chunn, to make further investigation and take such action as might be necessary to give them temporary relief.

McCartney, on Shingle Creek could be purchased for approximately $3,000.00, the said farm consisting of eight acres of land a part of which was in grove, that it had a good dwelling house thereon, and it was his opinion if the present County Home could be sold at a good price it would be a better proposition than the present home.

The Board having discussed the matter Commissioner A. F. Bass made a motion that Mr. J. R. Chunn, County Agent, go out and examine the orange grove and determine how much disease there was and what he considered its value, and to report to the Board at the December meeting.

The matter of delivery to the Bond Trustees of S. R. & B. Dist. No. 4, the Bonds in the sum of $80,000.00 was taken up, and upon motion of Commissioner R. V. Phillips, seconded by Commissioner H. O. Partin and carried the Chairman and Clerk of the Board were instructed to sign the said Bonds and upon the delivery to the Board of good and sufficient bonds by each of the said Trustees, the Bonds to be delivered to them. Resolution determining form of Bonds passed as follows:

St. Cloud Tribune presented bill to Board for $145.00, the same being for printing of Bonds; Messrs. The Clerk presented and read in open Board petition to locate and grade public road, running south from St. Cloud and connecting certain roads for the benefit of the public in transporting school children and for the benefit of the general public. The petition was ordered filed for further reference.

Mr. Charles Neld came before the Board in the interest of his road, and stated that for six years the Board had been promising to have the road worked, but had been so very busy they had not found the time, therefore, he insisted that they carry out their promise and do the work without further delay, upon motion of H. O. Partin seconded by R. V. Phillips and carried. The matter was referred to Commissioner J. M. Hanson.

Mr. J. A. Minnick, one of the Bond Trustees of S. R. & B. Dist. No. 4, asked the Board to call a meeting of the Board at such time as might be convenient to deliver the Bonds to the Trustees, to which the Board agreed.

matter of calling special session of Legislature to determine whether Florida shall take part in exhibit at Madison Square. No action was taken.

Three hundred and three years ago a band of Pilgrims from the Old Country, "moored their bark on a wild New England shore." Nine weeks previous this brave band, one hundred in number, fleeing religious persecution, had left Plymouth, England, in their little ship, the Mayflower, and started west across the broad, stormy ocean to the land of freedom.

This was the coming of our "Pilgrim Fathers," and the place of their landing in Massachusetts was known as Plymouth Rock.

Scarcely had these brave pioneers become settled in their new colony when the terrible New England winter was upon them. The suffering which they endured is evidenced by the fact that before the following summer one-half of the party had died.

Nothing daunted, those who were spared, happy in their new-found freedom, stayed on, planted their crops, and prepared for the following winter.

In 1621, the year following their landing, after a good harvest, the Colonists determined on a period of rest and thanksgiving for their many mercies.

The Governor sent out four hundred, who in one day secured enough game to supply the colony for nearly a week.

This was the original American Thanksgiving. For two hundred years it continued to be an Eastern holiday, taking place after every full harvest. Today it is a national custom, the day being observed throughout the United States.

In commemorating this birth of our nation let us remember that it was founded and raised on the Bible; that religion came first and business was a secondary consideration; that the laws of men were based upon the laws of God; and that the church was the first and most important organization of every community.

The best that is in us we owe to these sober, uncompromising, God-fearing New Englanders. And the farther we drift from their stern teachings and tenets, the greater is our danger of shipwreck as a nation and as individuals.

A Better St. Cloud to Live In

If you had natural gas in your home to cook with you would probably enjoy life more. Natural gas is convenient, clean and hot. Heretofore Floridians have not had the advantages of this wonderful fuel, but through a recent invention it is now possible. The Allgas Co. of St. Cloud managed by J. C. and H. W. Gallatin is preparing to distribute natural gas throughout South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

The Rockgas Products Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., are now compressing natural gas into liquid form in a steel drum under low pressure. There is just enough pressure to force the fuel to stove, fifteen to twenty-five pounds.

By installing all Allgas stove in your home you can cook in one half the time and can do it without handling a dirty oil can, or experiencing any smoke or fumes.

The Allgas Company will have a stove outfit on display at the Electrical store of J. C. Gallatin next week. When this concern has placed their natural gas in every home in St. Cloud our city will be just fifty percent better to live in. There is nothing more irritating than smoke and dirt and nothing more pleasing than a clean hot fire to prepare the meal. Eliminate your cooking troubles and go smiling on.

"JAZZY JACK WALTON OUT.

Last week we carried the news that Governor Jack Walton, of Oklahoma, had been impeached and removed from the office of governor of the great state of Oklahoma. In that story it was recited that Walton would again appeal to the Federal courts in an effort to stay the hand of the laws of his own state in this removal case.

We have wondered if our people had read all the story connected with this bonafide character, which reminds us somewhat in a lesser way of a one-time governor of Florida. The records of Oklahoma are clear on the matter, and if the outside world could read them as the people of Oklahoma know them, there would never be a word of criticism of the action finally taken by their state senate on the impeachment of the demagogue.

When Jack Walton, a barber, became a candidate for governor of Oklahoma, he was an revolutionary in his campaign speeches as any man could possibly be. He told the unsuspecting farmer throughout the error he would get them forty cents a pound for their cotton—and they believed it, because it was in a time of business depression when the price of cotton was low. He told them, among other things, that when he became governor there would be no "high-collared" ball for the aristocrats, but a regular old-time barbecue for the sons of toil, or the "man-in-overalls."

Well, "Jazz-Band Jack" (the name a jazz band in his campaign) got elected, and then it occurred to him and his backers that he had to make good his promise of an old-time barbecue at inauguration. The assembled and other press sent out a story of this great event. That the people of Oklahoma knew something of the inside of this part of the story, though many of them actually attended the affair, is of their own beef, pork or mutton and was home thinking that Jazz Band Walton had made good. When the fight started and the Ku Klux Klan was used as the Governor's defense then the people of the state began to compare notes. Here is the real inside story that the St. Cloud Tribune secured from a former St. Cloud citizen who moved to Oklahoma some time ago to take care of an estate left him, and who was there through all this noise and fuss:

When Walton found out he was up against the proposition of giving the people of the state of Oklahoma an old-time barbecue, he appointed a prominent Democratic leader as chairman of the barbecue committee and told him to "go to it." This appointee at once assessed each county with so many acres, so many hogs, so many sheep, so many chickens, so many turkeys, and the sections that were sparsely populated with animal life, he assessed with as much cash as donations to the governor's big state-wide barbecue inauguration. Well, the order stated explicitly that all the animals in kind were to be assembled at a central place in each county and sent by prepaid freight to the barbecue committee at the state capital which was done by the unsuspecting, but otherwise loyal Democrats. So far so good. The cash came from the cash-assessed counties and the big wholesalers were asked for and responded with liberal donations of coffee, sugar, canned milk, etc., to make the feast a success. And the story proceeded according to all the rules of Hoyle or Tammany.

By and by, the feast was held more than a half mile of barbecue pits were constructed. Several hundred special office cars with numerous spouts were made especially for the occasion. The cash sent in was used to pay for the ground fixin' and the affair was pulled off with much gusto. Albeit, the governor soon felt to call out some state troops to live with, because it was discovered that many of the high-educated fellows came in overalls and had their hips full of pre-Vietnam stuff, and as the affair lasted three days, order had to be kept.

It was finally all over. Jazz Band Walton was heralded as the savior of the state of Oklahoma. Then came the sobering days of paying the piper. Politician leaders called for their share of the spoils for early the state of Oklahoma had been sold by an interloper and he had promised so much that the entire commonwealth was not large enough to make good on these promises.

Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard.

Soon another cotton crop came on. There was no 40 cents paid for cotton. The overalls men, or sons of toil discovered that there were hundreds, yes thousands among the 300,000 at the big barbecue that were merely "wolves in sheep's clothing." Walton like one Florida governor had promised too much to get the job.

Then Jazz Band Jack tried to find

"PAT" JOHNSTON PROBABLY BE UNOPPOSED FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY OF OSCEOLA

The Tribune is pleased to print a late photograph of R. G. Johnston, who announced a few weeks ago that he had decided to allow his name to go before the people in the Democratic primary election of 1924 as a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of Osceola county, Fla.

People may wonder where "R. G." Johnston got the name of "Pat" Johnston. We have not been fully advised, but having had the privilege of knowing the whole family, the Irish father who migrated from Nebraska to Osceola county many years ago down to the present generations of the little "Pats" "Jimmys" and "Johnnies" and also "Joe" we are of the opinion that the name was passed on to his family ancestry during his time in Nebraska.

Pat Johnston has served the Board of County Commissioners as their legal adviser since 1910 and stated when he agreed to allow his name to be placed on the ballot next year for county prosecuting attorney, that he would enforce the law, although to accept the place, if elected meant a considerable personal sacrifice in his own office work.

Pat has been a successful lawyer before all the courts of this section, and from a financial standpoint, he will be making a great sacrifice to become prosecuting attorney, but Pat is made of the stuff that runs square. He believes that law offenders should be punished, but that they should be punished according to law, and he offers to serve if the people want him on the job.

Pat is well known by the gentlemen of North Florida, having served for some time as secretary of the Cattle Men's Association and can tell a mark or brand on a range steer as far as the eye can see. He knows the "cracker" like a book, and will make an efficient officer.

Nearly ten years later this particular Johnston family moved to Florida. In January 1920, Pat entered the Osceola High School in Kissimmee and eight years later graduated from that school in June 1928.

During the vacation periods and in leisure before and after school, Pat worked in his father's wood yard at Kissimmee. After graduation in 1928 he worked for W. B. Mackinson, who is now the head of W. B. Mackinson Company, one of Kissimmee's oldest and most prosperous business concerns, and during that time Pat saved money for his proposed college way out. He caught the idea when Ford was mentioned for president, and someone tried to get Henry to follow down to Oklahoma for the big barbecue, but "old Pat" refused to budge for the occasion. He thought then he could ride in on the chair of the "flaming cross" of the Ku Klux Klan and maybe he could lead Ford to it and be among the nominees. Heed he did not reckon with the sober thought of his own constituency—the deluded farmer of Oklahoma.

So Jack got mixed up in his dates, and when someone opposed him, especially the newspapers that thought he was sincere and found out he was a fake, he put the military in charge of their business. Soon he found out that the will of the people, he after all, the supreme law of the land, and today "Jazz Band Jack" Walton is out of a job, even as a respectable barber, and Uncle Sam's court refuses to interfere with the will of the people of Oklahoma.

So ends the last chapter of another political interloper.

May his bones rest in peace.

IT'S A LONG, LONG WAY TO TIPPERARY.

Last week our Narcoossee correspondent sent in a story that the Board of Trade at that place had started a movement to get a short-cut road from Orlando to the East Coast through Narcoossee. This road would probably develop Narcoossee, but would cut St. Cloud and Kissimmee off the road to the east coast from Orlando. Due to the fact that the Orlando folks are trying to get to the East Coast at a more northern route, (not to say shorter or cheaper) that would traverse Orange county for a longer distance, it is hardly worth while to mention the opposition that might come from Kissimmee, which would be cut off if the county of Osceola agreed to build the connection mentioned by the Narcoossee folks.

At one time many years ago the folks in the Narcoossee section offered a big site for the court house, at a time when Osceola was taken off the area of Orange, but Kissimmee was the stronger then, and of course are still there with the goods, where they have the court house. While we think Narcoossee offers fine opportunity for real development, the folks out there will find the same opposition from the county seat that prevented the court house being more centrally located when the original owner of lands on there offered the court-house site years ago.

IF THE SHOE FITS—

Last week we printed in this column what we thought was a deserved endorsement of the efforts of the local bankers to build up a big business in the city, being advised at that time that a few non-advertisers were guilty of pushing out-of-town bread of no better make, for business has been known to them, and tried in that article to show the crying merchant where he was "cutting off his nose to spite his face." But, in and behind! A good grocerman, whom we had considered a fair advertiser since he bought a grocery here from a non-resident owner several months ago, goes and likes! Not in the editor in person, although we have been in his place of business and met him on the street several times this week. No more, he didn't tell the editor his troubles, but he didn't like our editorial. We are surprised to learn that the article hit this otherwise liberal and progressive grocerman, because we never suspected him of doing things referred to in our article last week. But, if he does, and it is now apparent that he has been doing this very thing—he must wear the shoe of his selection. This makes us suggest that this man re-read the article of last week, and give the contents serious thought because we fail to see where there was one word that any progressive merchant would object to. A grocer and better power than helping the city, business, could take offense.

We are glad to say, however, that this was the only one case heard from, so we are inclined to believe that the gentleman in question was rather "hot under the collar" in too great haste, and that he will repeat at his leisure. We hope he repeats, because it's for his own good as well as for the city as a whole.

Appreciates Features.

This week the editor was pleased to have one of our northern friends remark on arrival that he and his good wife had been delighted with the paper during their sojourn in northern states, and asked in wonder how we could, and did, see our folks in this small city such a good paper. He referred to our special news features, Arthur Brisbane's weekly comment and cartoons we carry every week as being real big city newspaper features. We were glad to tell our friend that such people as he and his wife, who appreciate these features, had made it possible for the Tribune to have such a large circulation that we were not wholly dependent on local advertising as are thousands of country weeklies, and that we believed the readers were entitled to something for their money when they subscribed and paid for our paper. This kind of encouragement makes any country editor feel like giving the subscribers the best that money can buy, regardless of whether the merchants advertise liberally or not at all. Papers are published without any advertising—or rather magazines are—because their contents are so interesting that the publishers do not have to enter to advertisers. But these are the very kind of publications that wise advertisers want to tell their story in. The Tribune is glad it is in a class where it does not have to enter to the advertiser to make the paper go. Our readers appreciate our columns so much that the paper will keep on building the town regardless of the short-sightedness of some of the business men.

In the next year we have in store for our people some of the biggest things worth reading, and they will be received with glad and eager hands by our increasing subscription list. If our local business men don't take advantage of the low rate now offered for space in these columns, they will find that the rate is higher later in the coming twelve months. But we are glad to say the non-advertiser in St. Cloud can be numbered on the fingers of one hand.

NORTHERN EDITOR APPRECIATES FLORIDA CONTRIBUTTON TO COAL BOX.

About five weeks ago we got hold of a paper sent from Wisconsin, we forget which town, but it didn't make much difference as the clippings we print below will tell a story. That might be repeated in many another critical fix our brother editor is in, while he is still too poor to come to Florida, and also the fact that while his former neighbors are now surveying the change of climate has helped them so much that they can pay as $2 to buy ammunition for the deer and turkey hunt, and still be able to remember the fellow "back home" who needs coal. We haven't tried to make Kuno tell us the editor's name, because we hope his publication of such paragraphs will reach enough sympathetic friends to enable him to run down here for a spell and we will assure him one thing—he can spend his coal money for burkashot and fish line and still have enough left to live on after he goes back home next summer. Here is how a St. Cloud fellow's remark to the northern paper effected the editor:

"Joseph Kuno writes from St. Cloud, Florida, and makes a noise like a $2 bill, because he says, we shall

RICHARD LLOYD JONES SAYS

Be A Leader

... does to help or harm himself is of little concern to the world, but what he does to help or harm the many is of much concern.

Edward Everett Hale told us that many a "fathead" has gained a reputation for being "safe" simply because he didn't have brains enough to play anything else but "safe." To illustrate, he tells of a man he knew who acquired a local reputation for virtue among the thoughtless because he was always telling how careful he was to protect his own body from alcoholic and other harms. Among the same people he established a reputation for wisdom because in the legislative chambers where he held a seat he confined his public utterances to two speeches, one, "There has been so much said and so well said that I can add nothing"; the other, "I quite agree with the gentleman on the other side of the house."

Very broad, liberal and convincing, this chap! Put negative goodness on the scale that weighs virtue and you will find the index finger on the dial has not left zero. The virtue that weighs has force, passion, fire, resolution, determination, GO.

Virtue is measured by one's eagerness to save not alone himself but others, not to keep himself alone in the channel of the stream but to bring the driftwood of the edges into the current as well.

The makers of progress are they who try to help other progress. A mediocre mind can say, "Me too." A weak mind can say, "I don't." It takes a great man to hold a great idea and to lift it up that all may see it.

Progress is not affected by the derelict but by the driver in whose heart is found the passion not for one man's preservation but for all men's, not for advantage, but for justice; who is not concerned about what the world may think of him but about what he thinks of the world, who is eager to do for others rather than have others do for him.

Thanksgivin' Day is here at hand, with joys that all may understand. I take it, that our folks will share the friendly feelin' everywhere; that each and every heart an' mind holds Peace—Good will for all mankind. . . . I can't help thinkin' that's the way to celebrate Thanksgivin' Day.

I'll say—so far as I'm concerned, from what I feel, and what I've learned—the soul that's grateful in its way, should render thanks most every day. Our blessings come so thick and fast—each new one richer than the last—It seems we ain't got time to pray, for, life's one long Thanksgivin' Day!

The Spirit born at Plymouth Rock, shrinks not from fear or tempest shock; We consecrate our good right hand to God, and Home, and Native Land! From heart within, to God ever bend, we're thankful for our daily bread! Behold the stuffed an' basted turk. . . . Roll up yer sleeves—an' go to work!

be wanting a little coal soon to keep the keshole in the door from freezing up and burning. Joe has a heart for his old friends up here. Down Florida way they are still running their electric fans and boiling under the banana trees, and its mighty kind in such surroundings to think of people in this colder clime, who have to unbuttoned sunshine from October until June. Now when seven or eight more kind friends come across in the same way, we shall advertise for that load of coal. The day when the price of a year's subscription would pay for a wagon box full of beautiful illuminations has been a long-time gone."

In another place the Wisconsin paper said,

"Notwithstanding our pleasant days, the nights are more than usually chilly, for this season of the year. Our night last week the thermometer went down to 12 above zero."

And that about October 1st.

COME DOWN AND WITNESS THE BATTLE.

The National Road Traveler, published in Lewistown, Ind., had the following paragraph in their issue of November 5: "We, J. N. Wright and Samuel Kirkham, of St. Cloud, Florida, will think they're going to fight the Civil War again." If the editor of the Traveler will come down to St. Cloud to witness the "battle" he will soon get enough good Florida sand in his shoes and enjoy the sunshine in wintertime an' immensely that the Indiana publication will be looking for a new editor. Messrs. Wright and Kirkham are two of the several hundred veterans of the Civil War who keep patriotism alive wherever they go, and there is no need to worry about loyalty to the government where such men live. We are thankful to the Indiana folks for these two good citizens, now here and enjoying themselves immensely, avoiding the cost of coal bills and other winter-time worries of the Indiana climate.

Marriage of the Midgets, which is worth seeing as it is acted by our local children will be here Monday night. The following is a copy of a notice in Evening Tribune Times.

"QUALITY AMMUNITION"

Safety in the case of ammunition means a product, which, when correctly handled in properly constructed arms, will always function as intended. When using Peters Ammunition you are assured of better velocity, superior ignition, better pattern in shot shells, and greater accuracy in cartridge—and added to all—uniformity.

Good wedding and correct loading methods are the most essential factors of a good load.

Mike Peterson Says:

"I always use Peters Shells when they are available. I think they are just a little bit better than any other kind. I especially like them for the reason that they are uniformly loaded."

Folks, you all know Mike Peterson, chief engineer at the City Light plant. Well, he shoots apouts and he knows good ammunition, yes sir, and he brings home the meat, too.

The Methodist Sunday School was a record breaker last Sunday. The largest attendance they have had for several months and with a six piece orchestra had fine music and singing, and every one seemed to take an interest in the school while Superintendent Ferguson and Rev. Landless were a big smile.

While the radio set at Eisenstein's was operating last night the instrument got connection with Los Angeles, whereupon Wm. Eisenstein cranked his neck so hard to get a glimpse of the bathing beauties on the bench that he has a "crick" in his neck to this day. Just one of the disadvantages of the radio without the movie attachment being added.

Monday Mrs. M. Puckett Foster was delighted to get a phone message from her girlhood friend, Mrs. Nellie Jordan, of Chicago, that she had reached Orlando and wanted Mrs. Foster to take dinner with her. The dinner was held in Orlando, but the evening shadows saw Mrs. Jordan safely in the city of St. Cloud, where she will remain among her friends for the winter season. She was here last year and made many friends.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Sharpe were in St. Cloud last Saturday calling on the local ministers. Rev. Sharpe conducted a series of revival meetings here last winter season, and is at the present time conducting services at Pensacola, Fla. He has conducted services in twelve states since he was in St. Cloud last season. Mr. Sharpe is a graduate of the Moody Bible Class in Chicago and a very forceful speaker.

This week one of St. Cloud's annual visitors by auto tells us that a bridge tender at St. John's River, just south of Sanford, E. Stafford, by name, has been on the job there for eleven years and reports that this season he has counted more than 100 per cent increase in the number of tourist cars coming into South Florida. This will make a big story for the St. Cloud Tribune, but we are satisfied to get our share of the folks coming over the bridge at Sanford, without making a big huller about the increase in number. And we get a big share each season.

The Friends of Rev. Clara Broll, will be pleased to learn that she is back with us again from Cleveland, Ohio, where she has been doing much good work, organizing Spiritual churches and with her came her cousin from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cess Herbold. He is suffering from a breakdown from overwork, and is anxious to see what the Florida climate will do for him. They stopped off a few days in Jacksonville on down with young people.

The Christmas exercises this year will be under the direction of Mrs. Childers, and her class of young ladies. They have already started practicing so we are assured of a good program. It is estimated that there will be about forty young men and women taking part besides the many intermediates and little children.

Some one made the remark a few days ago that no one ever came to the Christian church any more. The one who said this should attend, at least, one service and find out how very far from the truth the statement is. The attendance all summer was good and now that the folks are coming back, we expect greater things, and now that two of our J. H. C. boys are home again, we look forward to the meeting they will hold as soon as they are strong enough. Robert Lucas of the college, and John Childers are now taking turns preaching at Narcoossee, Busville and Holopaw.

We are proud of our young folks, and know that God is blessing us.

Mrs. C. W. Harris, of Eleventh and Jersey avenue was the successful guesser on the Brammar contest as to how many steps the Walk-over Inn would take from Brammar's store to the new high school, which contest closed Tuesday evening. The winner was awarded a pair of shoes for the guess.

Agricultural News Notes

J. R. Quinn

Have you seen ripe Strawberries this year yet? They are to be found in quite a few patches now and Mr. Stinebaugh in the Shingle Creek section expects to have a full quart or more to be sold for Thanksgiving, and from the number of big ripe ones that can be seen over the field there is no doubt but that he will see them.

Another solid car of vegetables will move from Kissimmee on Friday of this week, which shows that Osceola County is fast waking up to the fact that trucking when done after properly is a paying business. Every car of vegetables shipped by the growers co-operatively this season has brought excellent returns.

Now is the time to get the ground ready for your spring crops. Don't wait until time to plant to get the grass turned under. It ought to have from now until spring to decay in the soil in order that the crop can get the benefit from it, and the cultivation will be much more satisfactory if the grass is turned under now.

One more warning about that fall application of fertilizer on your bearing grove. Your trees will be in much better shape next year and you will get a better crop of fruit by giving them a good application of fertilizer. Your trees are starting up food during the winter on which to produce blossoms next spring and unless food is put into the soil for them to draw on you cannot expect them to give best results. Use a fertilizer with two or three percent of ammonia, eight per cent of phosphoric acid, and eight to ten per cent of potash.

Remember we are going to have a fair January 23 to 26 of next year and now is the time to begin planning for it. We want all sections of the county and everybody to be represented in it.

Strawberries require liberal fertilization to give the best results so if you haven't put on over 1800 pounds to the acre already it will be a good idea to give them another side application pretty soon now.

Don't forget that the bulletin rack in the County Agent's office is full of material on most every subject concerning farming in this section which are there for you to get and use on your own farm. If you haven't already gotten what you are interested in stop by and get them, they are yours for the asking, and are kept here for the farmers to use.

This long dry spell makes us wish all the land in Osceola County was tiled for irrigation especially when we see the crops doing so well on the tiled land and the other crops drying up for the want of water.

The subject of bananas for Osceola County gets more interesting all the time. Two tracts of land were bought last week on which to plant bananas, and experts who have spent years in the banana growing countries pronounce this an exceptionally good section for growing them.

Ice Cards

All ice customers should use an ice card placed in some place easily seen by delivery men when ice is wanted. There are several reasons for this, especially at this time of year when many of our customers who have been taking ice every day find that they do not need it every day where the weather is cooler. There are also many new people moving in, and it is almost impossible for delivery men to remember every one every time. There are some who object to having ice men making disturbance about the neighborhood by hollering ice every time he comes by, so if you want ice play safe and use your ice card.

We will be very grateful to all customers who will co-operate with us this much.

VALUED LETTER OF EARLY DAYS CALLS FORTH MEMORIES

A letter written almost exactly one hundred and ten years ago, as legible today as it was the day it was written, is a prized souvenir in the possession of H. G. Higelow, one of Muskogee's few remaining civil war veterans, who is leaving for his annual winter residence at St. Cloud, Fla.

And thereby hangs a tale.

The circumstances under which the letter came into Mr. Higelow's possession are quite as remarkable as the letter itself.

A few years ago Mr. Higelow, while riding on a train, fell into conversation with a man whose name he learned was Pierce and whose father was a resident of Cooperville.

The man's name recalled to Mr. Higelow an incident of the Civil war, when he had been instrumental in having embalmed and shipped home the body of a comrade who had been a schoolmate in his boyhood home in Peyton, Mass. George O. Pierce, the first body thus returned home from the South during the war, Pierce had died in a hospital at Harrison Landing, having the body sent home after the disastrous second battle when McClellan was driven back from the advance on Richmond early in the summer of 1862. The act cost Mr. Higelow $125; and he never was reimbursed by the dead comrade's family.

Relating the incident to his chance companion on the train the latter was so impressed by this act of loyalty to a man of his own name that he declared, on parting, "when I reach home I am going to send you something you will value."

The receipt of this letter, dated October 6, 1815, at Zanesville, O., and addressed to "Mr. D. Woodbridge, Sr., Marietta, O." was the outcome. It was a keepsake that had been preserved in Mr. Pierce's family. The letter is signed "For Kirtland and Fulton" by W. Doherty, and relates to the delivery of a regiment of soldiers in Ohio at the time is the envelope, which was formed merely by folding the letter so that the message was wholly on the inside. In the lower left hand corner of the face of the "envelope" it is labeled "mail" and in the upper right hand corner, in a different handwriting is the legend "paid, 10¢."

SCOUTING INSIDEOUT

It is as necessary to have Scout headquarters as it is for our business to have an office, for headquarters are nothing more than the office where the Scout business is handled and it should have visible, physical evidence of the Scout Movement; a place for the exchange of ideas, a source of information and service for the community, and should be attractive and as centrally located as possible to the field to be served.

All Scout records are kept here and the files contain the registration papers for troops, reports of certificates and merit badges issued to Scouts, correspondence, financial and other records of the Boy Scout Council membership, and Courts of Honor.

The executive is the community engineer for the Scout Movement. He organizes the troops and trains the leaders. He is the administrator of the business of Scouting.

Three big responsibilities face the Executive each morning when he looks into the mirror.

First: To see to it that proper persons are enlisted for proper leadership.

Second: To see that leaders are properly and adequately trained.

Third: To see that leadership

FLORIDA CROP REPORT FOR NOVEMBER.

Agricultural production prospects on the whole have changed but little during the month. Condition of oranges and grapefruit is off slightly but remains well above normal. Production of grain below last year but box and forage crops show increase. Cotton crop practically a failure but a larger quantity of peanuts, sweet potatoes and tobacco has been harvested.

Farm wages on the decrease with supply of labor equal to demand except in the citrus belt, where there is a slight shortage of pickers in some localities.

Fruits and Nuts

The citrus crops are moving freely with shipments to November 1 of 3,227 cars compared with 2,569 cars to the same date a year ago. Condition is off slightly from a month ago but is better than usual at this time. Weather has been favorable and fruit is showing good color and quality. Sizes, especially for grapefruit, are running small, resulting in a feeling in some quarters that the total movement may not be as large as expected. The increased movement to November 1, over a year ago, rather strengthens the September forecast of 20,000,000 boxes compared with 16,000,000 boxes last season, especially as the crop is ten days or more later in maturing. This heavier early movement, however, may well have resulted from over-anxiety on the part of growers and shippers. As the movement of the crops advances, a re-survey of the belt will be made to confirm or revise the early estimate.

Condition on November 1, with final production of both oranges and grapefruit has been as follows in preceding seasons:—

ORANGES		GRAPEFRUIT		Total
Season	Nov. 1 Production	Nov. 1 Production		Production
1918-1919	84% 5,700,000 boxes	75% 3,200,000 boxes		8,900,000 boxes
1919-1920	86% 7,000,000 boxes	85% 3,500,000 boxes		10,500,000 boxes
1920-1921	90% 8,100,000 boxes	85% 3,100,000 boxes		11,200,000 boxes
1921-1922	77% 7,500,000 boxes	78% 3,000,000 boxes		10,500,000 boxes
1922-1923	81% 7,000,000 boxes	85% 3,200,000 boxes		10,200,000 boxes
1923-1924(a)	90% 12,000,000 boxes	85% 8,000,000 boxes		20,000,000 boxes

(*) October storm lowered condition and production. (a) Preliminary estimates.

Harvesting of Peanuts is well advanced with seventy five percent of a full crop in prospect. A year ago

Scouting education, on principles will not succeed unless the principles are understood and worked out according to Scout Standards.

"A Good Turn Daily" is the core of Scouting and applies to Scout Headquarters as much as to the individual Scout.

It works in harmony with civic service and acts as a shock absorber to public requests.

When Scouting is understood, it is no wonder that the community supports it with voluntary contributions.

In Scouting, money is necessary and it indirectly helps the boys by furnishing their program of activities.

Like many things in life, we get no more out than we put in, and Scouting is no exception to the rule.

When you contribute to Scouting, you make an investment in future citizenship.

Central Florida Council has jurisdiction over Brevard, Lake, Orange, Osceola, Seminole and Volusia Counties.

Orlando has been selected as headquarters because of its central location for serving the entire district.

In these six counties, there is a possible membership of 4,500 Scouts with an actual registration of 428 or less than 10% participating in the Scout program of education.

This condition is mostly due to the fact that Scouting is new, it being less than two years old in this district.

It may also be affected by a lack of knowledge of the Scout program of activities, as a result of insufficient funds to carry forward this movement at a more rapid pace.

On the first day of October, there were registered at Scout headquarters 14 troops numbering 241 Scouts.

Today, we have 24 troops and 428 Scouts registered. This substantial increase the past few weeks is the answer to the BIG IDEA of a few generous friends who the district who were determined that Scouting must live and it meant the peace and happiness of future generations thru the building of character and the training boys for citizenship.

Men, women, of our community, let's put our shoulders to the wheel and put Scouting across in a way which will make us all proud of our boys, and let us serve the Scout movement as cheerfully as the Scouts serve the community.

Let's do our "DAILY GOOD TURN" for the sake of our future citizens who are now—THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA.

Mr. C. A. Cairns, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Chicago & Northwestern R. R. System, was a week-end guest at the home of his long-time friends, Mr. E. T. Hopkins and daughter.

Mr. Cairns is an honorary member of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents and was in the recent tour of Florida of this association, the principal meeting being held at St. Petersburg.

Mr. Cairns was in St. Cloud a year ago and noted with surprise and pleasure the great developments in this and other towns and cities of Florida during the past year and says that he is only one of the 600 who have become enthusiastic over the accomplishments and possibilities of the state.

fifty percent of a full crop was harvested and in 1921, 85% of a full crop. Trees, generally, carried a good crop this season except, alone, the Southern edge of the State's pecan belt where bloom was very light with a setting of but few nuts. Fuller details of the pecan crop will be published in December.

Staple Crops

As the year's activities draw to a close the damaging effect of the rains of last spring and early summer is apparent in concrete form. Yields for corn, oats and cotton are the lowest in years and the efforts of farmers to increase production by planting larger acreages have failed. The partial failure of these crops has stimulated production of peanuts, sweet potatoes, peas and the late hay crops by forcing growers to turn to them to recover some of their losses.

The acreage in staple crops this year is about eight per cent larger than for last year and production, on the whole, will be five per cent less. The failure of cotton, the principal money crop, will be offset in a measure by higher prices for the small erally needed for fall plowing, planting of oats and fall gardens.

Truck Crops

Movement of full truck continues and local markets are well supplied. Planting of strawberries is over and is well advanced for cabbage, pepper, tomatoes, etc. Rain is needed over the entire trucking area of the state.

Farm Labor

Supply of farm labor is 84% of normal compared with 88% a month ago. There is, therefore, a shortage of almost eight per cent at present compared with five per cent a month ago. This increased demand is entirely in the citrus belt, the staple farming section not needing more crop and by the income from the increased production of peanuts, sweet potatoes and a few other minor crops.

Stocks of grain on farms will be light but farmers have harvested more hay than usual and also have a larger acreage of forage and winter grazing crops.

Supercane plantings were reduced last spring and the crop was largely left to take care of itself until late summer. Since that time cultivation and favorable weather have caused it to come out to a considerable extent but condition is lower than usual and yield will be off.

October weather has been favorable for harvesting and the season's work is well advanced. More rain is generally needed.

J. H. DAVIS DIES IN FLORIDA.
Telegrams Announcing the Death of John H. Davis Came Early in Week.
(Clendenin, W. Va. Herald)
John H. Davis, one of the pioneer citizens of Clendenin, died at his home in St. Cloud, Florida, after an illness extending through a period of years.
The end had been expected for some time.
J. H. Davis served as Post Master of this town for many years and was closely identified with our building and progress.
In religious faith he was a Methodist and he was identified with every move having as its aim the upbuilding of his church and the community.
On account of advanced age and failing health he left Clendenin and moved to Florida some years ago.
The last time that Mr. Davis visited Clendenin he said to the writer:
"I expect this to be the last time I will see Clendenin."
J. H. Davis was one of our very best citizens, and no man stood higher in the love, respect and esteem of Clendenin people than he.
He leaves a large family, all of whom are advancing considerably in years.
He leaves a goodly number of grand children and even grand grand children.

NARCOOSSEE FOLKS THINK "THERE'S A LIMIT."

NARCOOSSEE, Fla., Nov. 28.—The people of Narcoossee are a patient people, willing to undergo inconvenience and even hardship rather than do a seeming injustice to anyone, but there is a limit to their patience, and that limit has been reached with the depot building at this place. The Board of Trade, at its meeting Friday night November 21, unanimously adopted a motion instructing its secretary to communicate with the Florida Railroad Commerce, asking that an engineer of the commission be sent here and make an inspection of the building and if the contention of the Board of Trade that the building was wholly unfit for use either for passengers or freight service on account of age and rotten condition, that the commission order the Atlantic Coast Line Railway to at once begin the construction of a building in keeping with the freight and passenger business done at this place.

The place of Florida and especially the Florida Railroad Commission have no idea of the volume of business done by the A. C. L. at Narcoossee, for the reason that in the past as word from this place has ever appeared in print, but a new life has come to Narcoossee and its citizens are determined that no longer shall their light be hidden under a bushel.

and the Board of Trade is behind that movement with its full force.

Narcoossee ships annually about sixty thousand boxes of citrus fruit as well as an enormous amount of naval stores and lumber, and does a general freight and passenger business that will reach into six figures. This volume of business most surely entitles Narcoossee to a building that is safe for the passengers and equally safe for freight. As the building is today a person takes his life in his hands when he walks even upon the platform, as most of boards are decayed beyond repair and in many places are entirely gone. There is no accommodations in the building for either white or colored passengers, and as to a freight warehouse, such a thing is unknown the loading and unloading of freight being done wholly from the cars.

The people here want this condition bettered and the Board of Trade has undertaken the job, which means that in a short time Narcoossee can boast of a depot building in keeping with the progress it is making toward becoming one of the principal cities of inland Florida.

ST. CLOUD LOOKS OUT FOR TOO MUCH FUN.

The following clipping from a paper where our Mayor L. M. Parker formerly lived, leads us to remark that since Mr. Parker has been mayor here the only thing that had to be done in St. Cloud was to spend $9.00 for extra policemen on Halloween night, and only one complaint was registered as a result. This one complaint was taken care of by a volunteer force in the neighborhood, who did not assume responsibility for the happening, but replaced the small building as a matter of local civic pride when it was found one citizen had a complaint.

Too Much Fun
Perhaps you are one of the many that has criticized the writer for not finding fault now and then with some thing. It has been charged that we are overestimating howling and that we are afraid to say anything against the City Administration—in particular. Just to set the records straight we are afraid to say anything against the city. We do not employ someone to marshal the town at night (Halloween) and see that the pranks pulled were strictly and decent. In the failure of the city administration to supply night watchmen it cost the taxpayers of the city several hundred dollars in out-of-pocket expenses over and other detriment done. The top corn stand on west Main street was overturned at a loss of perhaps as much as a few extra night watchmen would have cost the city. Personally we are in favor of Mayor Maddox and his councilmen having to go about town and repair the damages done because of their seeming neglect in the matter.

It cost the city of St. Cloud just $9.00 for such extra police and there was only one complaint which was remedied by volunteer service of young men, while not assuming any responsibility for the overturning of an outbuilding, volunteered to replace the building on its foundations to satisfy a complaining property owner.

Mayor Parker has tried to make St. Cloud an ideal town. He has been criticized for what some observers think was a lack of vision, but it has developed that when cases are brought before him for any kind of law violation, that he gives the offenders a dose that will not soon be forgotten, if the protesting witnesses only produce evidence that will permit enforcement of law.

There's a lot of difference between talk and actual evidence.

Our laws can be enforced if the people who complain will testify with the same sincerity that they create gossip on the streets about what they think should be done.

Tens of thousands of doctors have been turned loose with fraudulent medical diplomas. Thousands of others, with regular diplomas, know little or nothing about disease and its cure. Every doctor once in so often should be asked to prove that he knows the difference between scarlet fever and appendicitis.

Private capacity and monopoly is a greater menace and snail than government ownership.
